The 3rd Asia-Oceania Ceramic Federation (AOCF-3) Conference

September 21-25, 2008

Yunnan Aviation Sightseeing Hotel Lijiang

Lijiang, Yunnan Province, China

1st Announcement and Call for Papers

Organized by:

Shanghai Institute of Ceramics, Chinese Academy of Sciences

Endorsed By:

The Australian Ceramic Society    The Ceramic Society of Japan

The Chinese Ceramic Society    The Korean Ceramic Society

<http://www.sic.ac.cn/meeting/aocf/index.htm>

Introduction

The Asia-Oceania Ceramic Federation (AOCF) was established in September 2003 at a kickoff meeting held at PacRim 5 in Nagoya, Japan. The aim of the AOCF is to bring together scientists, engineers and students to contribute to the development of ceramic science and technology in Asian and Oceania countries. This is the 3rd time of the biennial conference after the 1st one held in Japan in 2005 and 2nd one held in Korea in 2006.

Conference Symposia

1. Novel Processing of Ceramics and Composites

Proposed Topics:

- Powder synthesis/characterization
- Novel forming/colloidal processing/sintering technology
- Micro/Macrostructure control
- Advanced composite manufacturing technologies
- Hybrid processes

2. Synthesis and Characterization of Nanostructured Materials

Proposed Topics:

- Novel process for nanostructure design
- Low-dimensional nanostructured ceramics
- Structure control on nanoscale
- Hierarchically structured materials
- Characterization techniques

Call for Papers

Interested authors should send papers of each no more than 1-page in MSWORD format by email to the conference contact person before submission deadline. The paper should contain the contact author's detailed information. Please visit the conference website for the detailed papers preparation.
